The SVFF, an annual festival celebrating natural fibers, began in 2005 and continues to grow by leaps and bounds. It provides an opportunity for local artisans and educators to come together to inform the public about the rural heritage and agricultural opportunities available as well as providing an outlet for fiber artists and producers.

A great family event, SVFF offers opportunities for adults and children to learn about natural fiber production and processing and the heritage arts of spinning, weaving, knitting, crocheting and felting. One is able to touch and learn about fiber animals such as sheep, goats, llamas, alpacas and rabbits and watch a sheep dog work.

The festival is dedicated to expanding its educational opportunities with competitions for fiber artists, a variety of classes in fiber arts and seminars in agricultural pursuits such as shepherding and fiber processing.

The Shenandoah Valley Fiber Festival is a 501(c)3 organization.

Please consider supporting the festival in one of the following ways:

- A donation of $500 provides two free entry/raffle tickets and two SVFF ceramic mugs, an on-line listing in our Support section of the festival home page and a Full page ad* in a prominent position in our program.
- A donation of $250 provides two free entry/raffle tickets, and an on-line listing in our Support section of the festival home page and a Full page ad* in our program.
- A donation of $100 provides an on-line listing in our Support section of the festival home page and a half page ad* in our program.
